

Tyler Cook

Senior Vice President, CFO and Treasurer | Georgia Power Company

Tyler Cook is the senior vice president, chief financial officer and treasurer for Georgia Power. Prior to this role, she served as the senior vice president, Finance and Enterprise Transformation for Southern Company, where she was responsible for Southern Company's Decision Analysis and Strategic Support, Budgeting, and Enterprise Transformation Office organizations. These organizations provide strategic financial leadership to Southern's leadership and business units and optimize business operations to enhance our delivery of clean, safe, reliable, and affordable energy for our customers.

Tyler also served as vice president of Finance and Enterprise Transformation for Georgia Power, where she had oversight of the company's financial planning, financial analysis, and budgeting functions, including the development and delivery of the company's 10-year financial plan and strategy.

Since joining Southern Company in 2000, Tyler has held various positions of increasing responsibility in finance at both Georgia Power and Southern Company Services. In these roles, she performed financial analysis for multiple projects and initiatives across the company and provided leadership for numerous regulatory filings with the Georgia Public Service Commission. She also served as the assistant to the senior vice president of finance and treasurer of Southern Company.

Tyler holds an MBA with a concentration in finance from Georgia State University and is also a graduate of the University of Georgia, with a BBA in management information systems.

She currently serves on the boards of Horizons Atlanta and University of Georgia Terry College of Business Alumni.

Tyler and her husband have two children.
