Charitable Giving

Georgia Power has called the state home for more than 130 years. Every year, our company, our employees and our retirees renew their commitment to empower our communities and their residents to be successful. To support this, we have invested millions of dollars, our skills, and our time to communities across Georgia. We're proud that our emphasis on education and health and human services initiatives has provided more than $11 million to help families and children reach economic prosperity and wellness. Since inception, the Georgia Power Foundation has invested more than $185 million in Georgia.
